Total Inmate on Staff Assaults Years 1999- 2002

From 1999 to 2002, there has been a decline of 65% in inmate on staff assaults.

Note: Under the Lorton Regulations Approval Act of 1982, an inmate on staff assault is defined as any prisoner who willfully causes bodily injury to a correctional employee; or forcibly assaults, resists, opposes, impedes, or interferes with any correctional officer or other employee of the District of Columbia. These data were extracted from Extraordinary Occurrence Reports, Significant Incident Reports and Monthly Activity Reports.
